PEACE is Proclaim'd. May PLENTY enſue.

ANNAPOLIS, February 3, 1763.

BY a Gentleman from Baltimore, we received on Tueſday Evening laſt, this important and intereſting Article of News, THAT A PACKET IS LATELY ARRIVED AT NEW-YORK, WITH CERTAIN ADVICE OF PEACE BEING CONCLUDED ON, the Preliminary Articles being Sign'd, at FONTAINBLEAU, on the Third of November paſt. It is ſaid ſhe has brought Diſpatches for the ſeveral Governors of his Majeſty's Colonies, relative to this great Event; but thoſe for his Excellency our Governor are not yet come to Hand. All we have been able to obtain for our Readers this Week, relating to the PRELIMINARY ARTICLES OF PEACE, is contained in the following, which is from a MS Copy, that was copied from a Copy taken from a printed Copy: If there are any Errors or Miſtakes in it, they ſhall be corrected in a future Gazette. But it is beyond all Doubt, that PEACE is actually Settled; and on Thurſday laſt it was Proclaim'd at Philadelphia, where the Diſpatches were received.

A STORY founded on FACT.

SEVERAL Years ago there lived in Scotland, a Gentleman, whoſe public as well as private Character, muſt long ſurvive in the tender Remembrance, and affectionate Eſteem of all that knew him. It is foreign from our Story to ſay any Thing more of him, than that an unlucky Accident, by cutting him off, deprived Society of a warm Advocate for its Laws and Intereſts; the Poor and Fatherleſs of a Benefactor and Stay; an amiable Woman of her Friend and Huſband; and two promiſing Boys of a Father and Companion. He left a conſiderable Fortune behind him, and his Widow took care to give her Sons an Education ſuited to their Birth, as well as a free Choice of their Occupations in Life. The Eldeſt, who enjoyed the Fortune, diſcovered an early Inclination for the Army, into which he entered when about Twenty Years of Age. The Second (the unfortunate Hero of our Story) when he attained the ſame Age, engaged in the Navy; and as we ſhall ſee hereafter, made no inconſiderable Figure therein. The ſudden Death of the Father, occaſioned his Affairs being left in ſuch a Situation, that the Mother depended almoſt wholly upon the Bounty of her eldeſt Son for every Thing. Tho' ſhe had bro't him up (and indeed both of them) with the utmoſt Care and Indulgence; yet ſuch was the Diſpoſition of the young Man, that Abſence and foreign Countries ſoon rooted from his Breaſt, every kind of Affection for, as well as Remembrance of her, and her Situation. To ſee Children act the wiſe and dutiful Part, muſt give Satisfaction and Serenity to the Evening Hours of a venerable Parent. But how dreadfully ſevere is a contrary Conduct to ſuch a one: Together with the Pangs which this Mother felt for her vicious Son, ſhe felt all the Diſcontent and Peeviſhneſs which Poverty occaſions, eſpecially to thoſe who have experienced happier Days. She had nothing to ſupport her, but what her own Induſtry could acquire, and ſome ſmall Remittances from her Son in the Navy, who as yet could afford her but little. The Extravagancy of her Soldier ſo much increaſed his Demands, that at laſt, he put it out of his own Power, either to aſſiſt her (tho' inclined) or any longer relieve his own Wants, but by ſelling his Eſtate.

She was now obliged to retire from the World, and, as well as ſhe could, accommodate herſelf in a dirty little Country Town. It is hard to determine whether her real Wants, or the ungrateful Scorn of thoſe whom her Huſband's Generoſity had raiſed from nothing, bore hardeſt upon her. How often does Beneficence meet with this Reward from a ſordid ſelfiſh World!

It is neceſſary now to obſerve, that for ſix Years, ſhe had heard nothing of her youngeſt Son, whoſe former Remittances were wont agreeably to ſurprize her. This Delay, no doubt, while it cut off every Proſpect of future Affluence, added a Weight to all her other Misfortunes. He attained a conſiderable Station in an Eaſt-India Ship; but, by being conſtantly abroad, was deprived of any ſure Opportunity (at leaſt, any that he thought ſo) of ſending her ſuch Sums as her Indigency required, and his Circumſtances could now well afford. Beſides, he was uncertain whether ſhe was dead or alive. However, after an Abſence of eight Years, he returns to his native Country, and without giving his Mother (whoſe Situation he was now acquainted with) any previous Notice of an intended Viſit, he repaired to the Town where ſhe lived, and put up at the only Inn the Place afforded; this was ſo crowded that he could not poſſibly lodge there all Night. He determined, therefore, to pleaſe himſelf with going as a needy Perſon, [illegible] quainted in the Country, and aſking Lodging from his Mother, without making a Diſcovery until the Morning. Mean while he made himſelf known to the Inn-keeper, and communicated his Scheme; aſked him to conduct him to his Mother's Door; and engaged him to come the next Morning to her Houſe, and witneſs the happy Diſcovery which he longed to make. Accordingly, having dreſſed himſelf in a common Sailor's Habit, the Landlord attended him to his Mother's Houſe, and left him. The tender-hearted Son, upon ſeeing one ſo dear to him, in the meaneſt Situation, could ſcarce conceal himſelf: It excited an Ardour (which only the Generous can form an Idea of) hardly to be ſuppreſſed, of relieving her Exigencies, and making her happy. He aſked as a Stranger, and one who could have no Accommodation at the Inn, the Benefit of her Roof, and ſuch Repaſt as ſhe could afford for a Night; promiſing to pay her abundantly for her Trouble. At firſt ſhe refuſed, and told him that ſhe had no Convenience for accommodating any one but herſelf; but, at laſt, tempted by the Proſpect of a little Gain, ſhe conſented to his Propoſal.

Betwixt the Time of his going in, and their Parting, in order to take Reſt, ſhe recounted to him her hard Fate, and former happy Circumſtances; little ſuſpecting this was the Son ſhe lamented; ſhe told him of a duteous Child whom ſhe feared was now no more, and bewailed the Ingratitude of her eldeſt Son, whom ſhe had not for many Years heard of. From what we have ſaid of this amiable young Man, we may eaſily gueſs the different Emotions of his Heart, which this Recital would occaſion. It was now drawing towards Night, when each retired to Reſt; and the Youth wearied with a tedious Journey on the former Day, notwithſtanding the various Agitations in his Breaſt, ſoon found Repoſe.

In the Morning, the Inn-Keeper came at the appointed Hour, to witneſs the joyous Scene, which the ſudden and unexpected Reſtoration of a loſt Son, to an indulgent Mother, muſt exhibit. He enquired of the old Woman, where the Stranger was that came to her laſt Night; ſhe denied that any ſuch Perſon had entered her Habitation. The Publican imagining that the good Woman wanted to ſurpriſe him the more with the News, that ſhe could not but think agreeable, tells her to triſle no more, for he knew all already; that he had laſt Night conducted the Gentleman to her Door, and ſeen her receive him [illegible] the Houſe; ſhe ſtill denied her Gueſt. The Sequel is terrible! Going to the Bed, and lifting up the Clothes, he diſcovered —His Nature muſt have ſhuddered at the Sight! Oh horrid! the late, blooming young Man cold, and lifeleſs, with all his Blood congealed around him. The Imagination of every Reader muſt paint his Feelings; after recollecting himſelf a little, he aſked the trembling Wretch, if ſhe had not done this Deed. Every Feature and Nerve betrayed her Guilt; yet Artifice was mingled with her Confeſſion: She acknowledged the Deed, but affirmed it was done in Defence of her Honour, which not even her Age could protect from the bruiſh Paſſion of the Stranger—Unlikely Tale, and how ſoon recanted, when the Landlord told her, that this murdered Stranger was her long loſt, her dutiful Son, who, with an Affection not to be expreſſed, had returned to his native Country; and with uncommon Aſſiduity ſought her out, to ſhower upon her every Favour that filial Piety could deviſe, or Affluence could beſtow. Ah! then ſhe confeſſed, that tempted with ſome Diſcoveries ſhe had made of his having Money about him, fooliſhly imagining that Heaven would wink at the terrible Crime, and the Death of this Stranger would never riſe in Judgment againſt her, ſhe had ſeized the murdering Knife, and in the dead Silence of laſt Night, had ſtabbed him to the Heart. It is impoſſible for me to paint the Horror and Rage which all her Words and Actions now diſcovered. She made a full Confeſſion to her Judges, who condemned her to Death, and the Sentence was executed. Thus died this unhappy Woman, a ſtriking Inſtance of the Folly and Madneſs of thoſe, who take the Advantage of Secrecy, to commit enormous Crimes, which Divine Juſtice will not [illegible] unpuniſhed.

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 3.

SINCE Printing off the other Side of this GAZETTE, and juſt as this Side was ready for the Preſs, we received the Pennſylvania GAZETTE of Thurſday laſt, which contains His Majeſty's moſt Gracious SPEECH to both Houſes of Parliament, on the 25th of November paſt, with the Addreſſes of the Lords and Commons; brought by the PITT PACKET, Captain Goddard, into New-York; with many Articles of News, ſome of which (as many as our Time will admit) we here inſert.

GEORGE R.

WHEREAS Preliminaries, for reſtoring Peace, were ſigned at FONTAINBLEAU, on the Third Day of this Inſtant November, by the Miniſters of Us, the Moſt Chriſtian King, and the Catholic King. And whereas, for the putting an End to the Calamities of War, as ſoon and as far as may be poſſible, it has been agreed between Us, His Moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, and His Catholic Majeſty, as follows; that is to ſay,

That as ſoon as the Preliminaries ſhall be ſigned and ratified, all Hoſtilities ſhould ceaſe at Sea, and at Land.

And, to prevent all Occaſions of Complaints and Diſputes which might ariſe upon Account of Ships, Merchandizes, and other Effects, which might be taken at Sea, it has been alſo mutually agreed, That the Ships, Merchandizes, and Effects, which ſhould be taken in the CHANNEL, and in the NORTH SEAS, after the Space of Twelve Days, to be computed from the Ratification of the preſent Preliminary Articles; and that all Ships, Merchandizes, and Effects, which ſhould be taken after Six Weeks from the ſaid Ratification, beyond the CHANNEL, the BRITISH SEAS, and the NORTH SEAS, as far as the CANARY ISLANDS incluſively, whether in the OCEAN or MEDITERRANEAN; and for the Space of Three Months, from the ſaid CANARY ISLANDS to the EQUINOCTIAL LINE or EQUATOR; and for the Space of Six Months, beyond the ſaid EQUINOCTIAL LINE or EQUATOR, and in all other Places of the World, without any Exception, or other more particular Diſtinction of Time or Place, ſhould be reſtored on both Sides. AND WHEREAS the Ratifications of the ſaid Preliminary Articles, in due Form, were exchanged at VERSAILLES, by the Plenipotentiaries of Us, of the Moſt Chriſtian King, and of the Catholic King, on the Twenty-ſecond of this Inſtant November, from which Day the ſeveral Terms abovementioned, of Twelve Days, of Six Weeks, of Three Months, and of Six Months, for the Reſtitution of all Ships, Merchandizes, and other Effects, taken at Sea, are to be computed.

WE have thought fit, by and with the Advice of Our Privy Council to notify the ſame to all Our loving Subjects; and We do declare, That Our Royal Will and Pleaſure is, and We do hereby ſtrictly Charge and Command all Our Officers, both at Sea and Land, and all other Our Subjects whatſoever, to forbear all Acts of Hoſtility, either by Sea or Land, againſt His Moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, and His Catholic Majeſty, Their Vaſſals or Subjects, from and after the reſpective Times abovementioned, and under the Penalty of incurring Our higheſt Diſpleaſure.

GIVEN at Our Court at ST. JAMES's, the Twenty-ſixth Day of November, in the Third Year of Our Reign, and in the Year of Our LORD 1762.

Paris, Nov. 12. We learn from Cherbourg, that in the Night, between the 27th and 28th of October, another Hurricane drove aſhore Nine of the King's Ships, which had put into the Road of that Port, in their Way from Cove to Breſt. Four of thoſe Ships are intirely beat to Pieces; the Five others remained whole when the Account came away, but it was feared it would be impoſſible to relieve them. There were not, however, above Three or Four Seamen or Soldiers Drowned.

LONDON, November 13.

The new Preliminaries which the King of Pruſſia hath propoſed to the Court of Vienna, conſiſt in an Offer to give up the Countries of Halberſtadt and Mansfeld to the King of Poland, by Way of Indemnification, with ſome pecuniary Compenſations; but, on the other Hand, he demands, that Sileſia ſhall be ſolemnly guarantied to him in Perpetuity, with a Strip of Bohemia, lying between the Elbe and Sileſia. But the Empreſs Queen ſeems determined to hazard another Campaign, rather than ſubmit to theſe Conditions.

They write from Hamburgh, that ſome of the King of Pruſſia's Generals having ſpoke to him of a Peace with the Empreſs Queen, his Majeſty made Anſwer, That that Princeſs having rejected the Conditions he had offered her, he was determined to liſten to no Accommodations till he ſhould have put Things on the ſame Footing as at the Beginning of the War; that he perceived his great Fatigue hurt his Health, and would even ſhorten his Days; but that he was reſolved to Die in the Field.

HOSTILITIES Ceaſe

As far as the Canary Iſlands, 3d Jan. 1763.

Abſtract from ſeveral other Paragraphs:

"His moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, when he "ſigned the Articles, ſaid, He never wrote "his Name with more Pleaſure.—That it was "hoped, that while the definitive Treaty is "ſettling, an Expedient would be found to "reconcile the Courts of Vienna and Berlin, "which would render the Pacification ge-"neral.—That a complete Victory was ob-"tained the 29th of October, near Freyberg, "by Prince Henry of Pruſſia over the united "Armies of Auſtrians and Imperialiſts, the "Field of Battle, and Freyberg, quitted to "the Pruſſians, who took 5 or 6000 Priſo-"ners, and 30 Pieces of Cannon; the Pruſ-"ſians loſt about 1400: Another Account "ſays, he took one Major, 24 Captains, "41 Lieutenants, 11 Enſigns, and 4174 "Private Men, 27 Pieces of Cannon, and "nine Standards and Colours.——That an "Engliſh Officer in Germany, wrote on the "Second of November, That they had had "five Rejoicings in the Space of Ten Days, "For the Reduction of the Havannah, Re-"taking Newfoundland, Taking of Schweid-"nitz, The Victory gained by Prince Henry "of Pruſſia, and, The Surrender of Caſſel: "So many, in ſo ſhort a Space of Time not "having happened this War."

AS the Scheme I ſome Time ago offered to the PUBLIC, for Circulating a Library through the Province, is not likely to meet with the Succeſs I expected, I preſume it muſt be owing to the too great Latitude of my Plan; the Communication between this and the other Parts of the Province, not being as yet upon ſo regular an Eſtabliſhment, as to admit of it's being carried into Execution in ſo great an Extent, to the Satisfaction of all Parties. For this Reaſon, I am adviſed by my Friends to decline all Thoughts of puſhing it any further for the preſent, as premature, and to contract it within ſuch Limits, that every Subſcriber may, with very little Trouble, have the full Benefit of it. I propoſe therefore to confine my Subſcriptions to ANNAPOLIS, and a Circle of Thirty Miles about it. I preſume no one, who has the leaſt Taſte for BOOKS, or any Inclination to improve his Mind, can think much of the Expence of one Guinea a Year, for the Uſe of ſuch a valuable Collection, ſo plentifully abounding with Matter both for his Uſe and Amuſement; nor can I conceive how Gentlemen, who either cannot afford, or do not chooſe to lay out large Sums of Money in Books, can fall upon a better Expedient for attaining the Means of Knowledge, than by ſome ſuch Scheme as I have propoſed. If my preſent Plan is in any Reſpect exceptionable, and not well calculated to anſwer the Purpoſe intended, I muſt beg Leave to repeat the Requeſt I made in my former Addreſs to the Public, That any Perſon would be ſo good as to point out it's Defects, and to favour me with ſuch Improvements, as may put it upon the beſt Footing for all concerned.

WILLIAM RIND.

PROPOSALS,

For Circulating a Collection of NEW BOOKS in the City of ANNAPOLIS, and a Circle of Thirty Miles about it.

I. EVERY Subſcriber ſhall pay One Guinea, for the Uſe of this Library for one Year.

II. Every Subſcriber ſhall have the Uſe of one Book at a Time, for which he or ſhe ſhall ſend a Ticket or Note, under his or her own Hand, and ſhall have the Liberty of changing them as often as he or ſhe ſhall think proper.

III. Any Subſcriber damaging any Book, ſhall make Satisfaction for the ſame.

IV. Every Subſcriber ſhall have the Uſe of a Folio eight Weeks; a Quarto ſix Weeks; an Octavo four Weeks; and a Duodecimo three Weeks.

V. No Subſcriber, upon any Pretence whatever, ſhall lend any Book belonging to this Collection, under the Penalty of paying for the Book ſo lent, a double Price.

ALL Perſons who have open Accounts on the Books of Dr. Guſtavus Brown, late of Charles County, are deſired to Diſcharge their ſeveral Debts; and thoſe who have Claims againſt the aforeſaid's Eſtate, are deſired to bring them in that they may be paid. It is expected that thoſe who cannot make immediate Payment, will ſettle their reſpective Accounts by Note, Bill, or Bond, with Mr. Charles Love of Charles County, who is empowered to Settle and Collect the ſame.

In running the Heats, if it cannot be decided, which Horſe, Mare, or Gelding, has his or her Head at the ending Poſt firſt, that Heat goes for nothing, and they may all Start again, except it be in the laſt Heat, and the Doubt between two Horſes, Mares, or Geldings, if either of which had won, the Purſe would have been decided, then they only ſhall ſtart again.

The Entrance Money to be paid to the ſecond beſt Horſe, Mare, or Gelding, that ſhall ſtart for the Purſe.

If there are three Heats run, the Horſe, Mare, or Gelding, is ſecond beſt, that wins one, and if the Purſe is won by two Heats, the Preference to be determined by the Place they are in at the ſecond Heat.

SCHEME of a LOTTERY, for Raiſing ONE HUNDRED and FIFTY POUNDS, to be applied towards Building a WHARF at Bohemia Ferry, in Cecil County, Maryland.

As this Undertaking is intended, in a very particular Manner, for the Public Good, no other Recommendation is thought requiſite in it's Favour. The great Advantages accruing from it, to Numbers of the Trading Gentlemen reſiding in the Lower Counties of this Province, and a conſiderable Part of the Colony of Virginia, is beyond Doubt Excitement ſufficient for their unanimous Encouragement of a much more extenſive, though (perhaps in the Iſſue) not more laudable Undertaking. The Situation of the Place muſt undoubtedly Claim the Preference of any other at the Head of the Bay, it being much the neareſt navigable Landing, from whence a conſtant uninterrupted Communication with Philadelphia may, with the greateſt Eaſe, Safety, and Expedition, be maintained. A commodious Road for Cartage, not exceeding 13 or 14 Miles, is already laid out from the Ferry on Bohemia River to Ready-Iſland. A convenient Waggon for Paſſengers, or Goods, (and more than One upon any Emergency) will conſtantly attend once a Week at the Ferry, when the Scheme ſhall be compleated.

A convenient Wharf and Warehouſe is already built by Capt. Jacob Gooding at his Landing, at Ready-Iſland, who intends keeping in conſtant Attendance a proper Veſſel, once a Week (or oftener if Neceſſary) to go from thence to Philadelphia.

As ſmall Undertakings may in Time, if properly encouraged, become of great and public Utility, this Scheme is therefore humbly recommended to the impartial Conſideration of the Public, the Managers truſting it will meet with Succeſs adequate to it's Intention.

The SCHEME is as follows:

The Drawing will begin at Bohemia Ferry, the Firſt of March next, or ſooner, if ſooner full, of which timely Notice will be given, and the Fortunate Numbers to be publiſh'd in the Maryland GAZETTE.

Prize Money not demanded in Four Months after the Publication of them, will be deem'd as generouſly given to the Purpoſe of the Lottery.

The following Gentlemen are appointed Managers, viz. Col. Peter Bayard, Captains John Veazy and Jonathan Hodgſon of Cecil County, Jacob Gooding of New-Caſtle, and James Aſhton Bayard of Cecil County.
